

ARC-County Payment Rates Released

Rachael Brooke
Phillips-Rooks District Extension Agent
Agriculture and Natural Resources

It is that time of year when Agricultural Risk Coverage (ARC) and Price Loss Coverage (PLC) payments will be hitting farmer's accounts. It might surprise many farmers that some counties will be getting the maximum ARC-CO payment rates this year in commodities that experienced significant yield loss due to drought. This payment is for the crop harvested in 2022, where the marketing year concluded on May 31, 2023, for wheat and August 31, 2023, for corn, grain sorghum and soybeans. PLC payments will not be made on any commodities this year, as the 2022 /2023 Marketing Year Average (MYA) was much higher than PLC reference prices that would start triggering payments.

To see ARC-CO payment rates in an interactive map form for Kansas -

<https://www.agmanager.info/ag-policy/arc-co-actual-payment-maps/kansas-20222023-arc-co-payment-rates>

For more information, please contact the local K-State Research and Extension Office. K-State Research and Extension is an equal opportunity provider and employer.